

STATEHOOD BILL IS HANGING FIRE

Arizona and New Mexico Will Not Know Fate Until Next Week.

SENATE SETS DAY TO VOTE

HOUSE OCCUPIES TIME WITH MILITARY BILL.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The senate today agreed to vote on the statehood bill before adjournment on Friday, March 3. The proposition to take the vote at that time was made by Mr. Beveridge, and there was little difficulty in reaching an understanding. The suggestion immediately followed a speech in support of the bill by Mr. Hopkins, during the course of which Mr. Hale suggested that the territories were not prepared for statehood and suggested that their admission be deferred.

The remainder of the day was devoted to the discussion of the bill providing for the settlement of the affairs of the five civilized tribes of Indians, the major portion of the time being given to the provision for the disposal of the coal lands in Indian Territory.

Mr. Hopkins discussed the charge that the railroad and mining corporations of Arizona were standing in the way of the union of that territory with New Mexico, and when Mr. Dubois asked some questions on that point Mr. Nelson replied that those two interests "dominate the legislature of Arizona," and he added the opinion that the union of the two territories as one state would have the effect of minimizing the evil.

In reply to Mr. Dubois as to how the union would improve the situation, Mr. Nelson said that while no protest against consolidation had come from the corporations of New Mexico, most of the opposition in Arizona came from the railroads and the copper mines. He added that these interests pay less taxes in proportion to the value of property than do other interests.

Mr. Carter made the point that under congressional control it would be easier to accomplish that result in a territory than in a state.

Mr. Nelson replied to this point with a general exposition of conditions in both Arizona and New Mexico, not altogether favorable to those territories.

In the House.

Military matters held the attention of the house today, the army appropriation bill being under consideration for amendment.

That General Corbin and General MacArthur might become lieutenant generals, the provision of the bill abolishing that rank was eliminated on a point of order raised by Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio, who substituted an amendment to abolish the grade after these officers had been promoted, but this, too, met defeat.

Members of the appropriations committee disputed the right of the military committee to appropriate for an apparatus for fire control of field artillery, but without success.

Only eight of the fifty pages of the bill were passed upon when the house adjourned.

Deficiency Bill Passed.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The president today signed the urgent deficiency bill.

STRANGE MISHAPS

OVERTAKE CLOWN

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—While attending a local theatre yesterday, A. L. McPhail of New York, one of the best known circus men in the country, suddenly became blind. Thinking it was but a freak of his imagination, he lighted a match and held the flame before his eyes. His act attracted the attention of the audience and the players on the stage, and when the usher went to his aid it was found that he had collapsed. A physician announced that McPhail had been stricken with apoplexy. His condition today was reported still serious.

DAUGHTER OF GRAND DUKE OF OLDENBURG LED TO BRIDAL ALTAR BY PRINCE FREDERICK OF GERMANY

Princess Sophie of Oldenburg.

Prince Eitel Frederick.

Berlin, Feb. 27.—The Duchess Sophie Charlotte of Oldenburg, daughter of the reigning grand duke of Oldenburg by his first marriage with Princess Elizabeth of Prussia, and Prince Eitel-Frederick, the second son of the emperor, and empress, were married at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel of the palace, by the court chaplain, Dr. Dryander. Rain was falling on the chapel dome, but the inside was brilliantly illuminated by hundreds of candles, showing the costumes and uniforms of about 500 persons belonging to the royal families of Germany or the principal nobility, the cabinet ministers, and a number of generals and admirals. Ambassador Tower and Mrs. Tower were present in the diplomatic corps.

In the diplomatic circle also were Lieutenant Commander William L. Howard, the naval attaché, Mrs. Howard and Miss Howard; Captain William S. Biddle, Jr., the military attaché, and Mrs. Biddle; Third Secretary Nelson O'Shaughnessy and Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, and Second Secretary John W. Garrett.

The civil ceremony had previously taken place in the presence of the imperial family alone, in the electors' chamber, while the other guests were gathered in the chapel.

The empress placed the princess' crown of green velvet and diamonds, and a wreath of fresh myrtle, upon the head of the princess. Her majesty, who also wore a wreath of myrtle, and the bride were both dressed in pearl white silks. The train of the bride, which was four yards in length, was embroidered with silver roses.

The Duchess Sophie, with pages bearing her train, entered the chapel upon the arm of Prince Eitel, and he changed at the altar from her left to her right. They were followed by the emperor and the Grand Duchess of Oldenburg, the empress and the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, and others of the two families. The emperor and all the congregation except the bridal party joined in the hymn.

Dr. Dryander, addressing the bride and groom, dwelt upon the beauty of married life and the joys of home. Then, turning to the emperor and empress, the chaplain alluded to their home happiness. The responses of the prince and princess were clearly and even loudly spoken.

Dr. Dryander gave the prince a large

Bible, which he had difficulty in holding under his arm, and the emperor, the empress, the grand duke and grand duchess kissed both the bride and groom. Dr. Dryander kissed the bride's hand and shook that of the prince.

The imperial party passed out of the chapel, and reception of the court followed in the white hall, after which the guests sat down to supper.

The "torch dance," an immemorial German custom, began at 8 o'clock. Instead of torches, candles three feet tall were held aloft by twelve lackeys. They marched two and two in advance of the imperial party, who walked around the vast hall room bowing to the 1,500 or so members of the court who were massed on three sides of the hall.

The bride took the emperor and all the princes, according to precedence, around the apartment, and Prince Eitel escorted the empress and all the other ladies of the imperial family in turn around the hall. There was a time when the torches were held by the greatest personages of state in this dance, but the custom has not been observed since the wedding of the prince and princess, who were followed by the first lackeys carried the torches.

MOYES' HEALTH IS BROKEN

Councilman Has Relapse and Doubts of His Recovery Are Entertained.

Councilman A. H. Moyes, against whom an action is pending in the district court here in connection with the alleged illegal appropriation of the city's funds, and who suffered a collapse several days ago when a verdict of guilty was rendered by the jury in the Chambers case, suffered a relapse yesterday, and his condition is said to be critical.

Mr. Moyes had so far recovered from the first breakdown so as to be about on Monday a part of the time he spent in the court room watching the progress of the case against Councilman William Craig. Later in the day his strength left him and he was forced to take to his bed. From which, according to the attending physician, it is doubtful if he will ever rise. The nervous strain attendant upon the prosecution of the case against the city councilmen is said to have caused the collapse.

KUCHLER BOOM FOR COUNCIL

Movement to Place Defeated Mayoralty Candidate in Fred Chambers' Place.

Rudolph Kuehler, for city councilman from the Fourth ward to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Fred W. Chambers, is now said to be the state that is being engineered by Republicans who are looking for a successor to Chambers. Kuehler has been let into the city hall, and through them a sentiment is created. Mr. Kuehler in the council is not looked upon with much favor by the friends of the present executive.

LAWYER FROM CHICAGO.

Arrived to Help Finnegan Out of the Sheriff's Custody.

James Turner arrived in Ogden from Chicago yesterday and at once got busy on the matter pertaining to the habeas corpus proceedings which were the cause of Sheriff M. J. Murphy, of Lander county, Nev., stopping off at Ogden with his prisoner, James E. Finnegan, while en route from Chicago to Nevada. It is stated that Turner came here as a representative of lawyers who are engineering the proceedings to have Finnegan turned loose. Several years ago Professor Langley conducted a series of experiments with a flying machine at Widewater, Va., on the Potomac river, the results of which were watched with widespread interest. The experiments, however, ended disastrously.

MAY DENY HALVERSON.

Belief That Judge Howell Will Not Order Grand Jury.

Judge J. A. Howell will hand down his decision on the application of District Attorney George Halverson for a grand jury probably some time today, when it is expected that the Craig case will be given to the jury. The court will hardly hand down the opinion until after the Craig case is disposed of on account of what influence it might have on the jurors in that case. The general consensus of opinion is that he will deny the application, after which it is expected that Mr. Halverson will commence action for criminal libel in an effort to secure a vindication from the charges made against him.

John Lee Is Arraigned.

DEATH CLAIMS SCIENTIST

Professor S. P. Langley of the Smithsonian Institution Dies in South.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27.—S. P. Langley, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and known as a scientist throughout the world, died here at noon today.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Professor Samuel P. Langley, who died at Albany, N. Y., today, had a slight stroke of paralysis on Nov. 22, which affected his right side. He was gradually recovering from this attack when, on the advice of physicians, he went south to escape the more rigorous months of February and March in this city. The immediate cause of his death was not stated in the brief telegram sent from Albany to the Smithsonian officials.

Professor Langley was 72 years old and his whole life had been devoted to scientific work. Though by profession a civil engineer and architect, astronomy occupied most of his time.

Several years ago Professor Langley conducted a series of experiments with a flying machine at Widewater, Va., on the Potomac river, the results of which were watched with widespread interest. The experiments, however, ended disastrously.

Professor Langley's scientific career covered a wide range of subjects and included work in various institutions, which was supplemented by frequent trips to Europe in visiting foreign observatories and other institutions.

Much of the scientific work done by Professor Langley has related to the sun, its heat spectra and other sources of radiation, and he had accompanied some of the eclipse observation expeditions.

Professor Langley had been the secretary of the Smithsonian Institution since 1887. He was a member of scientific societies, and his published writings include more than one hundred titles.

BLAZE IN LODGING HOUSE IMPERILS MANY

St. Louis, Feb. 27.—While laboring under intense mental excitement, P. T. Hughes, aged 26, from Lincoln, Neb., overturned a lamp in his room on the third floor of the Comfort hotel today. A fire was started and Hughes and J. A. Courtney, 55 years old, superintendent of construction at the Missouri Pacific hospital, who also occupied a third floor room, jumped from windows to escape the flames. They each suffered a fracture of their skulls and are in critical condition.

R. B. Dyckman, a clerk in the hotel, was seriously burned about the face and hands.

R. B. Dobson, a deaf mute, and Charles Reins, a cook, ran through a blazing hallway to escape and suffered burns.

Hughes had been taken from his burning room, when he broke away from his rescuers and rushed back into the flames and a moment later jumped from a window.

The flames were extinguished after slight loss. There were 125 other guests in the hotel, who escaped uninjured.

DISCLOSES OIL TRUST METHODS

Former Employee of Combine Tells How He Was Paid by Two Companies.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 27.—Assistant Attorney General Lake began taking testimony here today in the ouster case of the State of Missouri against the Standard and the other oil companies.

John Burroughs, a wholesale oil dealer, said that while in the employ of the Waters-Pierce Oil company he had been sent to Mississippi to buy turpentine, and received half of his pay from that company and half from the Standard. He had from time to time received instructions to cut prices to a point at which it was impossible for independent producers to do business.

He got instructions from division headquarters at Denison. He was instructed to get samples of oil shipped in if he had to steal them. There had never been any competition between the Standard and the Waters-Pierce companies in Oklahoma.

Burroughs said that all oils used by the International Harvester company in Oklahoma were charged to the Standard Oil company.

"The Waters-Pierce people put false labels on their oils for harvesters," said Burroughs, "the harvesters people furnishing the labels."

WHISKY-MAKING SECRETS

Dr. Wiley, Chief of the "Poison Squad," Enlightens Members of Congress.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, department of agriculture, appeared before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce again today.

The diet of Dr. Wiley's "poison squad," on which he tested the effects of borax administered at the rate of 7½ grains a day, was discussed at length by the committee. The high quality of the food and the great variety in the bills of fare as explained by Dr. Wiley caused considerable levity, and Dr. Wiley said that he was the keeper of the best boarding house in the world.

Representative Mann asked Dr. Wiley if he could not get his board and keep it up here to the house and serve our lunches.

Chairman Hepburn discouraged all joking, and urged that the scientific investigation of the effects of preservation was of too great importance to be treated lightly.

Dr. Wiley discussed the manufacture of whisky by the use of high wines, and made for the committee an imitation whisky. He said that high wines could be had for 13 cents a gallon plus the internal revenue tax, and urged that it was unfair to allow mixed whiskies to be sold as straight whisky.

Dr. Wiley said blended whisky may be better than straight whisky and less injurious, but he insisted that it could be sold for exactly what it was. He expressed the opinion that no real Scotch whisky is sent to this country for consumption. Malze is used, he said, in the manufacture of the Scotch whisky sent here.
